PHILOSOPHY

When she first moved to Austin, Susan got into the industry by answering an ad for a secretarial position at a local title company. These days, although her official title is "Escrow Officer", we often compare her to an attorney based on her problem solving ability and sharp attention to detail. Susan excels at working through underwriting and escrow challenges without compromising the transaction. She is a strong believer that every problem can be resolved by doing proper research and utilizing all available resources.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Susan is a clear communicator who always strives to meet her clients' expectations. She enjoys being able to interact with different personalities from all backgrounds. Her favorite part of the job is the sense of accomplishment when a transaction has been completed.
